EXPERIENCE

Predictaf, Los Angeles, CA —
Full-Stack Product Designer
2025 - Present

Design and deliver cohesive end-to-end experiences for a SaaS property management platform, elevating usability and engagement while reducing reported friction by 40%. Lead UX research and testing to uncover conversion barriers and translate insights into intuitive, high-performing features through rapid prototyping and refined user flows. Develop and maintain a scalable design system in Figma and Storybook to ensure visual consistency, accessibility, and efficient design-to-dev handoff. Collaborate with product, growth, and engineering teams to align design strategy with business metrics and customer needs. Design production-ready UI components that accelerate delivery and shorten time to market.

Techstyle Brands, Los Angeles, CA —
Sr. Product Designer, Growth
2016 - 2023

Redesigned responsive acquisition funnels that drove a 30% increase in new customer conversions through improved usability and data-informed iteration. Partnered with product, engineering, marketing, and analytics teams to prototype, test, and launch growth and onboarding experiences that improved activation and retention. Synthesized user research, behavioral data, and experiment outcomes to inform design direction and stakeholder alignment. Evolved and scaled design components to reinforce brand consistency, accessibility, and delivery speed.

Sony Pictures, Los Angeles, CA —
Interactive Designer, World Marketing
2012 - 2016

Designed marketing digital worldwide campaigns from concept to completion, meeting strict film or television premiere deadlines and maintaining high brand standards. These initiatives helped set milestones for several film release box office records. Evaluated lift study measurements for campaign design and testing on upcoming films. Iterated on and improved the design of campaign assets based on weekly reports and media KPI metrics to improve tracking.
